NIS CHAPTER IX MEMO NO. 44

DATE 9 October 1957

MEMORANDUM FOR: NIS Chapter IX Contributors

SUBJECT: Language of map or chart

1. The language of the map or chart as recorded in the item citations is determined by the language or languages used for the title, legend, marginal information, or map annotations.

2. The language of the place names is not considered to be a part of the language of the map or chart. U.S. Government policy for place names provides for the use of native forms (with the exception of a limited number of conventional names). Maps and charts prepared by U.S. agencies therefore generally have title, legends, etc., in English but place names in the native language. These maps are considered to be in English only.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR, CIA

BY: [illegible]

MEMORANDUM FOR: OIS Chapter IX Contributors

SUBJECT: Order of citation, grid, and graticule information

1. The Chapter IX outline and outline guide calls for inclusion of graticule (and projection and/or grid) information in the citation of individual items. The graticule information (or lack of it) is to be cited in every case; information on the projection and grid is included only if particularly pertinent.

2. The above information should be placed in the following order in the citation: projection, grid, and graticule.
